To Whom it may concern,

The idea of doing away with discovery in district court violates clear constitutional guidelines and is grossly unfair. I was a prosecutor for over 11 years and have prosecuted thousands of cases and tried hundreds. Though I am now in private practice, I am in disbelief that anyone who would even attempt to hold out that a criminal case is a search for truth, and at the same time would actually want to limit/delete discovery in a case they somehow deem unimportant. Quite frankly it is shameful and I urge you in the strongest of terms to deny any such request to limit discovery. Thank you.
